

MACQUARIE INFRASTRUCTURE COMPANY ACQUIRES SAN JOSE JET CENTER

June 18, 2007 – San Jose, California

Known throughout the industry as one of the most highly regarded Fixed Base Operations in the Country, SJJC Aviation Services, LLC (the San Jose Jet Center & ACM Aviation) has recently entered into a definitive agreement to be acquired by Macquarie Infrastructure Company (MIC) in a transaction involving Mercury Air Centers, Atlantic Aviation, and Macquarie Infrastructure Company.

San Jose Aviation Services, LLC currently owns the two fixed base operations at the San Jose International Airport. The FBO industry has been in a trend of consolidation for a number of years, and the current market is tightly focused on the very few premium operations such as the San Jose Jet Center.

Over the past decade the company has seen impressive growth. The San Jose Jet Center's combination with ACM Aviation in January 2005 resulted in the combined company occupying 30 acres of airport property, providing 230,000 square feet of hangar space, and 60,000 square feet of office space. The notable infrastructure is all backed by industry leading operations with an impeccable safety and service record.

Based in Silicon Valley and founded in 1986 by a group of local aviation enthusiasts, the San Jose Jet Center was built around the ability to provide comprehensive services to all general aviation aircraft either based at, or transitioning through, San Jose in state-of-the-art facilities. President & CEO, Dan Ryan stated "The initial investors had a vision of what the Jet Center should be for the community. We are now seeing the culmination of over 20 years of commitment to service. We have always been a sought-after company in the industry and this transaction makes terrific sense for our shareholders, Atlantic Aviation, and Mineta San Jose International Airport."

Completion of the acquisition is slated for the third quarter of 2007 after the formal city notification process is completed.

For more information about the San Jose Jet Center please contact:

Greg Johnson
Vice President, Business Development
(408) 938-4389
gjohnson@sjjc.com
www.sjjc.com